

DBConnection

To create a connection to the Mysql database.

ProductDetails

To query the database with the product name received from index.html

config.properties

Contains the userid, password and database url for the ecommerce database

The program will take the name of the existing product and if available in the database will display the details, all products with the name in case of multiple records.

In case the product is not present in the database the error is returned.